

Fraser Health is the of health care from Burnaby to Boston Bar.

We recognize that Fraser Health provides care on the traditional, ancestral and unceded lands of the Coast Salish and Nlaka'pamux Nations, and is home to 32 First Nations within the territories of the Fraser Salish region.

Serving more than one in three British Columbians, we remain focused on improving the health and well-being of over two million people in 20 diverse municipalities across the region.

Dedicated staff, medical staff and volunteers support health service delivery in hospitals and communities.

Fraser Health is committed to serving all Indigenous people, and honours the unique cultures of the First Nations, Métis and Inuit living within the Fraser Salish region.

By creating inclusive care environments that foster trust and respect, and address systemic barriers and biases, we aim to ensure everyone receives the care they need and deserve.

Our partners

We are grateful for our many partners who help us deliver health care services in our communities, including Divisions of Family Practice, Fraser Valley Regional Hospital District Board, community service organizations, health care foundations and auxiliaries and the volunteers and donors who support them. Contact your local foundation or auxiliary to learn how you can bring your heart to health care.
