Home Isolation
While Waiting For Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) Results

Your doctor has agreed that you can stay home while you wait for results of tests for the novel coronavirus (COVID-19). You are well enough to care for yourself at home.

To prevent the possible spread of this illness, we ask you to:

Isolate yourself at home for at least the next 96 hours.

How to isolate yourself

Stay at home
• Remain in your home, except when you need urgent medical care.
• Cancel appointments unless it is for an urgent medical reason.
• Do not go to work, school, or public areas (such as stores, shopping malls, restaurants, and places of worship). Your doctor may provide you with a note excusing you from work or school.
• Do not use public transportation or taxis.

Call ahead before going for medical care
• If you need to go for urgent medical care, call ahead.
• Let them know you are being tested for novel coronavirus.
• When you arrive, remind health care providers again. This helps keep other people from possibly becoming infected.

Monitor your health
• Check your temperature each day, if you have a thermometer.
• Go to the nearest Emergency Department if:
  - You have trouble breathing.
  - You are not able to drink any fluids.
  - Your illness is getting worse.
  *Remember to call ahead and let them know you are being tested for novel coronavirus.
• If you need to call 9-1-1, alert the operator that you are being tested for novel coronavirus.

Wear a facemask
• Wear a facemask when you are in the same room with other people.
• Wear a facemask if you must leave your home for urgent medical care.
• If your mask gets damp or dirty, change it.

To get your results, call:
Coronavirus Hotline 1-833-707-2792
Monday to Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

• If your results show you don’t have the novel coronavirus (COVID-19), the nurse at the Hotline will explain the next steps.
• If your results show you have the novel coronavirus, someone from Public Health will call you within 96 hours.
Cover your coughs and sneezes

- Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when you cough or sneeze.
- Wash your hands right away.
- If you don’t have a tissue, cough or sneeze into your sleeve (not your hand).
- Throw all used tissues into a plastic bag in your room.
- To dispose of the bag, close it and throw it out with other household garbage.

Wash your hands

- Wash your hands often. Use soap and water for at least 20 seconds. Dry your hands with paper towels, when possible.
- If you cannot wash your hands with soap and water, use hand sanitizer (alcohol-based hand rub).
- Try not to touch your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.

For more information on handwashing:
- Go to HealthLinkBC and search ‘File 85’.
- Use this link (tinyurl.com/u6oyhvy) or scan this QR code.

Do not share household items

- Do not share dishes, cups, eating utensils, towels, bedding, or other items with people in your home.
- After using these items, wash them with soap and hot water.

Separate yourself from other people

- Keep yourself separate from other people.
- Ask anyone who lives with you to live elsewhere, if possible, while you are isolated. This is especially important for anyone who has a chronic health condition or a weakened immune system.
- Tell family and friends not to visit you.
- If you must live in a shared accommodation:
  - Stay in a room by yourself, including sleep.
  - Use a room with a window to the outside that can be opened for airflow.
  - Use a separate bathroom, if available.
  - Use a facemask when you are in the same room with other people.

Clean frequently touched surfaces

- Clean frequently touched surfaces every day with regular household cleaner or diluted bleach (1 part bleach to 99 parts water).

Examples of surfaces: counters, tabletops, doorknobs, bathroom fixtures, toilets, phones, keyboards, tablets, and bedside tables

If you have any questions:

- Call your doctor.
- Call HealthLinkBC.

If you have any questions:

- Call your doctor.
- Call HealthLinkBC.

Open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
Available in 130 languages. For an interpreter, say your language in English. Wait until an interpreter comes on the phone.

Note: Do this as well when calling the Coronavirus Hotline.