

How to use this physician list: this list contains names and contact information of physicians practicing in the Fraser Health region who speak the following languages: Arabic, Farsi, Hindi, Punjabi and Urdu (in addition to English). Physicians who can offer their services to protected persons, including resettled refugees and refugee claimants, under the Interim Federal Health Program (IFHP) are identified in the column G as 'Yes'. You can find physicians by their names, cities where they provide services or by languages that they speak.

To find physicians who speak other languages: please visit the College of Physicians and Surgeons of British Columbia's website and use their advance search function to expand your search to other cities or to find physicians who speak languages other than the ones identified in this list.

To find physicians who accept Interim Federal Health Program (IFHP): please go to this link and search by location to find providers that can offer their services under the Interim Federal Health Program (IFHP) but are not limited to the cities and languages that are identified in this list (e.g. nurse practitioners, physicians practicing in other cities).

To find additional Fraser Health resources for newcomers: Fraser Health has developed a guide for newcomers to help you find your way around our health care system. Please download a copy of this guide in your preferred language.

Please visit our website for more information on the South Asian Health Institute (www.fraserhealth.ca/sahi) and find additional resources that are available for South Asian newcomers.

To learn more about virtual or in-person care: please download this resource to learn more about accessing virtual or in-person care or finding doctors that are accepting new patients.
