

Dialogue
on aging

Providence
Health Care
How you want to be treated.

Fall 2023 Dialogue on Aging Update

Providence Health Care is pleased to announce our partnership with the Edwin S.H. Leong Centre for Healthy Aging, UBC, to expand the delivery of our free in-person and virtual Public Presentations on healthy aging.

SESSION 1 – Measured, monitored, optimized: digital technologies and quantified aging with
Dr. Barbara Marshall – October 18, 2023 (2 to 3:30 pm), in person at BMO Great Hall, VanDusen Botanical Garden

Dr. Barbara Marshall is an award-winning researcher and Professor Emeritus, Department of Sociology at Trent University (Ontario), and a founding member of the Trent Centre for Aging and Society.

How do wearable fitness trackers and ambient monitoring systems transform bodily movements into data? Explore how this data is translated into actionable knowledge, shaped by cultural narratives that view aging bodies as potentially modifiable and open to optimization but at the same time inevitably in decline and always at risk.

Arrive early to enjoy refreshments before the presentation and visit with the exhibitors:
Interact with the Lovot Social Robots • Meet representatives from Bounce Back • And more

Register Now

Advance registration is advised.

Eventbrite Registration URL:
<https://tinyurl.com/mr2kn2yu>

Details for upcoming speakers to follow – visit publicpresentations.providencehealthcare.org