

Virtual Physician Care Research in Long-Term Care

- Have you participated in or supported physician telehealth (care provided remotely by phone, fax, text, video, e-mail) as a resident, physician, family/friend caregiver, volunteer, or staff (registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, care aide, allied health professional, recreation therapist, or other) in long-term care at Fraser Health?
- Would you like to participate in an interview/focus group to share your experiences and preferences for telehealth in long-term care? This is an opportunity to inform policy recommendations and actionable tools for virtual physician care in long-term care. Participation will take up to one hour. As a form of appreciation, we offer you a $50 gift card of your choice.

This research is conducted by Fraser Health, Simon Fraser University, and the University of British Columbia and led by Dr. Janice Sorensen, Research Leader in long-term care at Fraser Health.

If you are interested in participating or would like to know more, please call 778-848-3348 or send an email to the research coordinator at benajir.shams@fraserhealth.ca
